PAFP EVP, CEO Jordan retires

(HARRISBURG, PA. Dec. 10, 2019) Longtime Executive Vice President and Chief Executive Officer of the Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians, John Jordan, CAE, will be retiring from the organization on Dec. 31, 2019.

Jordan, who provides executive and administrative-level leadership for the Harrisburg-based statewide professional association of more than 6,000 members, has served as the PAFP's EVP and CEO since joining the organization in 1998. In that time, Jordan worked with and reported to the governing board providing general oversight for continuing medical education, public policy, medical students and residents, residency programs, and the organization's financial budget. Jordan also implemented a statewide virtual association for the PAFP staff.

Prior to his employment with the PAFP, Jordan served as the Group Director of Membership, Physician Programs, and Association Management Services for the Pennsylvania Medical Society in Harrisburg.

The PAFP has named Brent Ennis as its next EVP and CEO. Ennis is currently the PAFP's Deputy Executive Vice President and Chief Operating Officer. Prior to joining the PAFP, Ennis served as the Director of Legislative Affairs and later District Director of Southeastern Pennsylvania for the Pennsylvania Department of Health. Ennis also worked as Director of Government Relations for Lehigh Valley Hospital and Health Network after several years with the United Way of North Carolina prior to his appointment at the state Department of Health.

Ennis will begin in the role on Jan. 1, 2020.

The Pennsylvania Academy of Family Physicians and its Foundation supports family physicians across the Commonwealth through advocacy and education to ensure physician-coordinated, personalized, and comprehensive quality health care for every Pennsylvanian. The Academy and its Foundation are the leading influential resource among family physicians and physicians in training in Pennsylvania; the voice of family medicine on health care issues with state legislative and administrative branches of government, media and professional health organizations; and a statewide public health policy innovator.
