Pennsylvania Title V Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant: Prioritizing Health Needs

What: Every five years, Pennsylvania's Maternal and Child Health Services Title V Block Grant requires the Bureau of Family Health to conduct a comprehensive assessment of the needs of women, infants, children, adolescents and children and youth with special health care needs in Pennsylvania. After reviewing available health data and receiving input from families and providers across the state, the Bureau of Family Health is now working toward identifying the priorities that will drive the issues that state and local Title V programs, staff and grantees will address over the next five years.

We want to hear from you!

Who: You! This is an opportunity for providers and families across Pennsylvania to share input on the potential priorities that will guide which issues Pennsylvania's Title V programs will address over the next five years.

When: Friday, October 18, 2019, 4:00PM

Where: Dixon University Center, Administration Building, Conference Rooms A, B and C, 2986 North Second St., Harrisburg, PA 17110-1201

Refreshments will be provided. These are family friendly events!
